

Environmental

Geopolitical

Energy

Economy

Aesthetic

GEOPOLITICAL

ROBERT DANCIK
Oxford, CT

"GRINDING TO A HALT?"
(96"H X 56"W X 25"D)

I came across this definition for the word "grind" in my dictionary recently and thought how fitting it was as a description for America's situation in the mid-east right now. As I thought more it seemed to have a lot to do with various situations and behaviors our government is engaged in. I am appalled at how willingly money is poured into this oil rich region and seemingly converted into not much more than death.

Grind (grind) v. – 1. a. To crush, pulverize, or reduce to powder esp. by rubbing between two hard surfaces. 2. To shape or refine by the use of friction. 3. To bear down on harshly. 4. To produce mechanically or without inspiration. 5. To instill or teach by persistent repetition. 6. A laborious task, routine, or study. 7. To become crushed

NFS